To establish direct linkages with potential Indian buyers to promote products from Sri Lanka, The Ceylon Chamber of Commerce in association with the Trade Promotion Council of India (TPCI) and the Sri Lanka High Commission in New Delhi organised Sri Lanka’s participation for the first time, at the “Indusfood - Tech 2020” Trade Fair, held from 8th to 10th January, 2020 in India to showcase Sri Lanka’s processed food and beverage industry. 34 representatives from Small and Medium (SMEs) companies were selected to join the business mission to explore opportunities to establish business linkages.

The main objective of participation was to identify potential buyers to promote products from Sri Lanka, sourcing machinery, equipment and raw materials required for the food industry. In addition, SMEs were facilitated to observe market requirements, strengths of competitors, labelling requirements and pricing in the Indian market. In addition, post event tours to manufacturing plants were organised for the benefit of SMEs to identify suitable machinery/equipment for expansion of their manufacturing capacities.

Delegates were facilitated to attend sectoral round table discussions and meet over 1,000 foreign delegates from Australia, Austria, Bahrain, Bangladesh, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Germany, Netherlands, Russia, USA etc. in addition to over 1,200 business partners from India during the B2B Meeting sessions on 8th and 9th January. Wide array of products and services related to food industry were showcased by 600 Indian exhibitors at the Trade Fair.

India having a population base of over 1.3 billion offers a large demand driven market. The total consumption of the food and beverage segment domestically is expected to reach to US$ 1.142 trillion by 2025. India is the top global producer of meat, milk, castor seeds, sesame, mango, banana, chickpeas and is among the top producers globally for rice, wheat, sugarcane, tea, spices, onion, potatoes, and many others. With the new agri-export policy, the Indian F&B exports is expected to grow from USD 32 billion to USD 70 billion by end 2020. Growing level of income, falling poverty, changing lifestyles and companies racing to capture India’s middle and upper middle class consumers will cause the food market to evolve dramatically in the coming years.

This unique combination on one hand makes the Indusfood - Tech Trade Fair interesting for purchasers from all sales channels, such as the wholesale and retail trade, importers and trading companies and on the other hand, the Trade Fair also addresses experts from the out-of home market, such as catering companies, hotels, resorts, restaurants and food service suppliers. As a pure B2B trade fair presenting a broad range of foods and beverages, Indusfood
Sri Lanka's participation for the first time at the “Indusfood - Tech 2020 India” Trade Fair witnesses positive responses for SMEs.

- Tech 2020 offered an outstanding platform for acquiring information, placing orders and networking.
